New translation muddies waters

Thousands across Asia attend an English-language Mass, particularly in the Philippines and the increasingly polyglot larger cities.

Mike MacLachlan - UCA News