

Commentary on the Gospel for Tue, Aug 21st 2018

IT WILL BE HARD FOR ONE WHO IS RICH TO ENTER THE KINGDOM OF HEAVEN

Wealth in itself is not intrinsically evil. It is how we use it that can be sinful or virtuous. Similarly, knowledge and power are morally neutral entities. They may be used either for good or evil. The possession of any of these carries with them the responsibility to use them for the welfare of others. The possession of these though can enslave or sway a person to use them for one's own selfish gain.

Let us thank the Lord for all he has given us. And let us ask the grace to use all we have for the greater good.

Claretian Publications - Manila