

Commentary on the Gospel for Wed, Nov 16th 2011

The master summoned ten of his servants and instructed to put the money given to them to work. We know what happened to the first two servants. But what happened to the seven other servants? Imagine some of them investing the same amount of money but were not lucky enough to gain more money. Do you think they will have the same fate as that of the third servant? They obeyed their master's command to put the money to work yet for whatever reason, they failed in the business. That was far different from not investing at all. They may not be successful enough but the master will be glad that at least they tried and took the risk.
