

Commentary on the Gospel for Sat, Dec 24th 2011

The day before Christmas, we listen to the song of Zechariah. Notice how it's not just a personal praise for all the good things God has done to him personally but a narrative of a people, the nation represented by Israel's salvation history. Our little stories are part of the bigger story. We are part of the bigger picture of God's beautiful plan of salvation.
