

Commentary on the Gospel for Wed, Oct 3rd 2012

When God calls who can oppose it? We see 3 people in the Gospel today. The first one says “I will follow you”. To the second one Jesus says “Follow me” and the third one says “I will follow you but ...” Job, in the first reading says, ‘who can argue with God. If he does not answer me how can I plead with him?’ In another words Job says with God no complains, when God calls put no conditions, when God takes away things that we like or gives things that we don’t like, accept it with an open heart and hand. As the saying goes, ‘with God there is no complaints only complements’.
