

Commentary on the Gospel for Wed, Dec 12th 2012

This is what I tell the seminarians in my class: When you become priests, remember that as priests, you share in the mission of Jesus. As priests, you need to learn to listen more and talk less. People around you will be older and have more experience than you, so they will naturally know more about life. But people are lonely; they need others who have the time to listen to and care about their concerns. This is one ministry many of us forget.
