Liturgy Alive of Feria

Opening Prayer

God, you are high above us and get nearer to us thun we are to ourselves; you hate evil and yet you give a chance to people who fait. You will not you give a chance and still you love us. Teach us your surprising ways, that your throughts may become ours and that we may generously share with those around us all the good gifts and the life you have given us in the generosity of your heart, through Jesas Christ our Lord.
Liturgy of the Word
First Reading Introduction
The first reading gives us a first attempt to establish a kingdom to give more stability to Israel than the system of the Judges, but the would-be king is rejected with an allegory that ridicules him.
The first feating gives us a first antempt to establish a languoun to give more standing to search than the system of the Judges, but the wounder king is rejected with an anegory than footballs.
Gospel Introduction The parable of the laborers in the vineyard tells us, contrary to what we often hear, that God is not a bookkeeper. Of course, he loves those who lead exemplary Christian lives. But in his heart there is also room for the stragglers and latecomers as well as for the pioneers. God loves us and is generous to us, not because we are good by because he is good.
General Intercessions
- That Christians may contribute to our world a sense of giving out of pure generosity and goodness and a sense of celebration, we pray:
- That in our communities everyone may be accepted as he or she is; that we may not exclude any one from our love and that we may learn to forgive everyone, we pray:
- That those who are jobless, sad or bitter because they think they are useless and nobody needs them, that we may give them the chance to contribute to the good of society, we pray:
Prayer over the Gifts
Generous Father, in these signs of bread and wine you give us, weak and tired as we sometimes are, your Son as our companion. We open ourselves to his strength and love. May he help us in the heat of the day to bear the burdens of our struggles and to seek your will in all we do. Grant this through Christ our Lord.

Prayer after Communion

Generous Father,
in this eucharist we have experienced again that life and all that we are is nothing che than a gift from you.
May the demanding word of your Son stir us to accept and sever our neighbor
as you have accepted and loved us without any ment on our part.
And may the body of your Son sustain us
to put your word into practice.

We ask you this in the name of Jesus the Lord.

Blessing

We have tooked at God today as an unbelievably good God. For God, every person is valuable, also the weak and those we consider good for nothing. Everyone counts. May almighty God bless you all, the Father, and the Son, and the Holy Spirit.
