Liturgy Alive of St. Mark Evangelist Feast

troduction
disciple of Peter, Mark writes	in simple words how with Jesus came the time of salvation and repentance. He shows Jesus both as the Son of God and the Son of Man, whose life led to his death, but who revealed himself fully in the resurrection. The disciple must follow his master.
oening Prayer
and keeps us fro We pray you tod	you called Mark, your Word. phyour Spirit re in the hope m will come ng us rrist, our Lord,
General Interce	essions
	eak the word of God, that they themselves may be filled with it and out of this fullness proclaim it with conviction and warmth, we pray: - For all who hear the word of God, that they may receive and treasure it in their hearts and bear fruits of goodness and peace, we pray:
	- For those who do not yet know Jesus Christ, God's living Word and image, that the lives of many convinced Christians may open their eyes to Jesus, the true light who came among people, we pray:
Prayer over the	o Gifts you invite us to gather around your Son, that he may share himself with us in the signs of twed and wine. May he also share his Spirit with us, to speak his word and to become to all those around us signs of your goodness and peace, that people may praise your name through Christ our Lord.
Prayer after Communion accept our thanks for making known to us how good and inspiring your Son is. May we bring something of his goodness and his good news in the world of today and may the way we live be part of this message. We ask you this through Christ our Lord.

May we too be people of the word of God, who know it and put it into practice, with the blessing of almighty God, the Father, and the Son, and the Holy Spirit.