Liturgy Alive of Feria

Opening Prayer
ai K O' H te b ai y'	we believe that your plans for us are for peace and courage, and not for fear. Keep us open-yed to the signs of the constant coming of Jesus your Son. Help us to commit ourselves untringly on the growth of your kingdom among us ye carriying out your plans for peace and love and for all that makes our world more your world and the way to your home. We ask this through Christ our Lord.
Liturgy of the W	Vord
	ntroduction note of Revelation describes the last judgment as the final exodus. Plagues had struck the Egyptians; seven plagues strike those who have rejected Christ. Those who have followed Christ, the Paschal Lamb, and have crossed the Red Sea by being faithful in passing the lake and the fire of trials, enter the promised lines of Moses, the song of their liberation, to God, the Lord of history. Let this Eucharist be a song of praise to God for our liberation in Christ.
Gosp	pel Introduction
	has made us witnesses of Christ. But it is not always an easy path, especially in times of great change, and even more so for missionaries. Difficulties will come from those closest to us. But we may rest assured that Christ is with us and that through his Spirit he will make us eloquent and give us the wisdom what or be afraid! This may be easier said than done.
Gen	eral Intercessions
 For the Church 	th, that free from all paralyzing fears it may have the courage born of faith to bear witness to the demands of the gospel, we pray:
-	For the leaders of the Church, that in our difficult times they may not be men and women of fear but of trust in God, we pray:
-	- For the prophets in our midst, sent by God to wake us up from our complacency, that we may not muzzle them but heed their call for conversion, we pray:
Prayer over the	Gifts
a: tc M b: tc rs tc ir N M	accept this bread and this wine as signs that we are committed to build up your kingdom in our world. May our artitudes and decisions in life the those of Icsus, your Sou: to seek your dawn of love and service ather than self-destructive selfishness, to be constructive and creative in giving shape to a new earth after than to be critical of the past. May we thus fully encounter you one day in the joys of a new heaven.

Prayer after Communion

Grant this through Jesus Christ our Lord.

Lord God,

your Son Jesus destroyed our death by dying and by rising he restored our life.

By the strength of this eucharist

May we and the whole of humanity grow up in Christ day after day through the pains and tensions of all growth. But keep alive in us the joy of a firm hope that your dawn of justice is coming to make us and all things new and that Jesus will return to make us and that Jesus will return to make us and the state of the for good and for ever.

Do not fear. We are in God's hands. Trust in God. And let his Spirit live and speak and act in us, with the blessing of almighty God, the Father and the Son and the Holy Spirit.
