Liturgy Alive of Feria

	Saint Agnes, Virgin and Martyr
	Memorial
	January 21
troduction
ew saints hav	been as popular in Rome as the twelve or thirteen-year old girl martyr St. Agnes. At a time of massive defections from the faith, in 305 she endured torture with idealism and patient faithfulness. Even the young can make hard decisions. As her name comes either from Gr. agnos (pure) or from L. agnus (lamb), she celebrated today by the pope blessing unblemished lambs from whose wool the pallium (liturgical vestment of archbishops) will be woven. pening Pray
	youth and innocence are no obstacle to understand the message of your Son and to fallow him with courage. Let the quiet strength of St. Agues inspire us not to be ashamed of your Son and of his mesage of life and freedom even in the face of contradiction. As we bear the name of your Son, help us to be ever datafuld to him, for he is our Lord for ever.
rayer over ti	e Gifts
od our Father	with bread and wine we remember how your Son laid down his life for us, his friends. Let him fill us with firesh courage to go his way, and to be close to him in life and in death, for he is our Lord for ever.
rayer after (ommunion
ord, almighty	God, by what is young and frail you put to shame those who think they are experienced and strong.
	By the word and the body of Jesus Christ give us the courage too live up to the demands of the goopel. Like to St. Agnes, may your Son mean so much to us that he is our life even in death and that with him we rise above pain and sorrow,
	for he is our Lord for ever.
